RATIFICATION OF TREATY NEAR

RATIFICATION BEFORE JANUARY 16 HAILED AS CHANCE FOR ANOTHER WET PERIOD OF FEW DAYS.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—With both sides apparently willing to give and take, the effort to reach a compromise agreement for ratification of the peace treaty was reported progressing satisfactorily at conference between senate leaders of both sides. Early ratification of the treaty was predicted by some senators before January 16, which would give President Wilson an opportunity to lift war-time prohibition and grant the country a wet period before the constitutional amendment becomes effective on that date.

Ada Motor Co. Have a Unique Window Display

Practically every merchant in the city deserves special mention of the wonderful window displays they have prepared for the holidays, but when it comes to the automobile dealers, the Ada Motor Company has one that even the other dealers will have to admit is something out of the ordinary.

The entire space of the commodious show window in the southeast corner of the big building, fronting on Main street, is taken up with the scheme. It is a most realistic snow scene, arranged with cotton sprinkled with silver confetti, and it is so near an approach to the real thing that you begin to shiver when you get in sight of it, even if you have on your furs.

It represents a rugged roadway in a mountainous district. A steep hill covered with snow is the main feature of the landscape and on the north side of the road a stone wall shuts out the imaginary view beyond, giving all the necessary effect of distance. Behind the wall, along the hilly roadway, is a dense cedar woods, and perched high upon the cliffs among the cedars is a large deer, a buck, in fact, with horns that instantly identify the animal as a fine specimen of the deer family.

At the foot of the hill, apparently under full speed with no possibility of getting stuck even in a snow drift, is a new, spick and span five passenger Dodge, with lights burning full glare and lighting the roadway.

The window is something new for this section of the country and whoever did the work has the ingredients of an artist in his makeup.

GOD HELP ODESSA

By the Associated Press:
BERWICK, Eng., Dec. 22.—The cost of living in Odessa is about 400 times more than before. It says Miss Russell, sis, the local food controller, who has just returned from that Russian city. She lived there for two and one-half years.

A pair of boots, she says, costs from 2,000 to 3,000 rubles—a year's salary—and a dress was only to be had at a similar ruinous figure. In Odessa the day before she left the English pound was equivalent to 800 rubles instead of less than 10 as in pre-war days.

"The Bolsheviks," she explained, "are Communists and the principle of the Communists is everything for themselves and nothing for the rest. The other, they say, have had their turn, and they treat them with ruthless cruelty. Life for the educated people is utterly impossible. Those who have money are fast eating into their capital; those who have not are dying of starvation. That also is an expensive business, for the cost of coffins has reached a prohibitive figure."

ILLEGAL OPERATION CAUSES HER DEATH

AGED MICHIGAN WOMAN ACCUSES MAN OF MURDERING HER DAUGHTER WITH ILLEGAL OPERATION

By the Associated Press
LAWTON, Mich., Dec. 23.—A signed statement, accusing Joseph Virgo of performing an illegal operation upon Maud Tabor, has been made by Mrs. Sarah I. Tabor, 80 years old, mother of the brilliant linguist whose body was found in a trunk in the basement of her home here, assistant prosecutor Glenn Warner, announced this morning.

The statement which is in direct contradiction to the story told by the aged woman at the inquest covers 30 pages and was made to him, Warner declared, in jail at Pawpaw, near here shortly after midnight.

Mrs. Tabor says that Virgo, who was married to Miss Tabor about a year before her disappearance in 1916, took her to a deserted farm house in the neighborhood of Lawton, kept her there three days and then brought her home where she died.

The statement adds that Virgo crammed the body of his wife in what was to have been her hope chest and conveyed it to the cellar after she had prevented him from shipping the trunk out of the state. Virgo has been held in the county jail at Pawpaw nearly a month on a warrant charging murder.

In her testimony at the inquest, Mrs. Tabor brought back from California, with her son Walter on a charge of murder, denied she had any knowledge of the case.

COMMERCE COMMISSION REVISES FREIGHT RATES

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Orders in the Memphis southeastern investigations, made public today by the interstate commerce commission, revised virtually all freight rates between Memphis, St. Louis, Arkansas and Oklahoma and in effect reaffirmed the decision in the courts that there must be no discrimination or prejudice between intrastate rates compared with interstate rates.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The commission's report written by Mr. Daniels, made these findings: Prescribe a maximum scale of rates for distances not in excess of 350 miles between points in Oklahoma, Arkansas and southern Missouri.

Declared existing second class rates between Memphis and all points on Class A railroads in Arkansas to be unreasonable and unduly prejudicial to Memphis to the extent that they exceed by more than reasonable bridge tolls the corresponding class rates applicable for like distances to intra-state traffic in Arkansas.

Prescribe reasonable bridge tolls. The allegation that the class rates from points of origin in Western trunk lines territory to Ft. Smith, Ark., and unduly preferential to that point and unduly preferential to points in eastern Oklahoma was not sustained.

JUDGE ANDERSON TODAY RELEASED ALEX HOWAT

By the Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 23.—Alexander Howat, President of Kansas district of United Mine Workers of America, was released from Jail today by United District Judge A. B. Anderson.

Howat agreed to join the international officials of United Mine Workers, pending a telegram to the district executive board in Kansas in an endeavor to have all strikes in Kansas coal fields ended.

Elephant's Bones Shipped
Ed Crabb, taxidermist from the Oklahoma University, returned this morning after shipping the bones of the elephant belonging to the Honest Bill Circus, which died recently, to the University. It required three large boxes to hold the bones, which upon arrival will be remounted in the museum for study and inspection. Mr. Crabb wishes to thank Will Newton, better known as "Honest Bill," and owner of the show, for his help, for he was most accommodating to be and Prof. MacMillan, who had charge of the skinning of the elephant to mount at the Normal.

LAW OFFICERS OF THE CROWN INDICT KAISER

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Dec. 23.—Law officers of the crown held a consultation with French and Belgian officers today with regard to former emperors. It is reported that the conference made out a case against the former German ruler and framed an indictment.

Raising Hell For Christ's Sake

Have you ever seen the Prince of Peace in a joy wagon? Have you ever seen roughnecks celebrating the message of Bethlehem by racing on Main street in an auto truck, firing torpedoes and six shooters? If you never have, then you were not on Main street in Ada last night.

When the curtains of Heaven roll back and angels come down to praise the advent of peace on earth, it is one thing. When 1900 years have passed and a gang of American roughnecks violate speed regulations and light the streets with the flash of fire arms to celebrate the birthday of Christ, it is another thing.

An angel chorus above the hills of Bethlehem. An auto load of half-baked Americans filling the air with noise and profanity. Take your choice. More than nineteen hundred years have passed since the advent of Messiah. Nations have yielded to His gentle teaching and the races of men have taken knowledge of the message He brought to earth. Civilization has adjusted itself to the philosophy taught by a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. Yet time and teaching both are wasted on men who worship jake and gun powder and offensive noises.

How much has the world learned since Mary wrapped the Child in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger?

Judged by last night's performance on Main street the world has learned nothing. Still there are those who express their joy at the birth of a Saviour by making unvarnished asses of themselves.

CHARITIES CAMPAIGN WILL BE SUCCESS

The Christmas campaign for United Charities in Ada begun yesterday morning has already been a pronounced success. The goal set was a monthly budget of at least $500.00, and this amount is already in sight. Quite a number of liberal-minded citizens are yet to be seen, but a sufficient number have been seen to assure the committees that the desired amount will be subscribed.

It is an unusually busy time, making it rather difficult for the committees to see everybody and entailing quite a sacrifice on the committees who have had to leave their work at such a busy season to canvass the city. The following are the committees for the different wards: Ward 1, A. M. Gregg, Frank Yeargan, and Will Neathery. Ward 2, Max Levin, T. B. Blake, and J. G. Witherspoon. Ward 3, John Chapman and Guy Anderson. Ward 4, F. L. Finley and J. E. Hickman.

All work of charity in Ada for the year 1920 will be under the supervision of United Charities and the support of this work will be by the monthly budget now being subscribed. It is the purpose of the organization to eliminate street begging. Everyone soliciting aid will be sent to the regular organization in order that an investigation may be made and all worthy cases cared for. In this way every worthy case will receive the necessary assistance and fake solicitors prevented from imposing on the public.

The Old Selkirk Musket Still Goes Rounds of Museums

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Dec. 23.—The musket said to have been given to Alexander Selkirk when he was put ashore on the island of Juan Fernandez, 400 miles off the Chilean coast, has been going the rounds of British museums. It was Selkirk's adventures upon which was based DeFoe's famous story, Robinson Crusoe. The musket is inscribed with the name "A. Selkirk Largo, 1771." It was purchased by Randolph Berens for $6.25 but the owner has insured it for $10,000.

Selkirk owned a tavern near Clapham but died in 1723 at sea as a lieutenant aboard a naval vessel. Grady Jinks and Jack Newton of Sulphur were in the city yesterday on business.

DECORATIONS AT TIMES GO WRONG

ADMIRAL SIMS REFUSED ONE HIMSELF ON THE GROUND THAT INJUSTICE HAD BEEN DONE.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Secretary Daniels today ordered a comprehensive report on awarding of decorations prepared for the information of Chairman Page of the senate naval committee. It will include all recommendations by individuals or by boards and the action by the boards and the secretary himself upon the recommendations.

The order was issued in response to a request of Senator Page which followed criticism of the manner in which some of the awards were distributed. Part of this criticism was made by Admiral Sims who commanded American naval forces overseas during the war, in a letter to Secretary Baker. In the letter Admiral Sims declined a decoration of a distinguished service medal tendered him personally on the grounds that injustice had been done to some officers in the distribution of the awards.

PLAIN JACK PERSHING REACHES HOME TODAY

By the Associated Press
LACLEDE, Mo., Dec. 22.—John Pershing, General, laid aside all military formalities today and visited in this village, his birthplace and boyhood home. When he stepped from the platform of his special car dozens of his boyhood chums rushed to shake his hand. When the party was able to push through, they were taken to his old home where dinner was served. They named him Jack, and Jack he was the remainder of the day.

SANTA CLAUS NOW ON HIS WAY TO ADA

Polar Bear City, Somewhere The Ada Evening News
Ada, Oklahoma, Dear News:

I have read your paper every day for the last three weeks, and know what the little folks of your city want. I had laid in a supply of good things for my Ada friends, but I notice that the Ada merchants have everything I need, so I am sending my Polar Bear City supply to Arkansas where they don't have so many nice things.

I am leaving for Ada this afternoon to distribute my little tokens of joy to my more than five thousand friends. There is one little boy and two little girls who have been bad, and I can't take them anything. Maybe, if they are good, I'll think of them next time.

Yours for a good time,
SANTA CLAUS.

BOLSHEVIKI OFFENSIVE AGAINST POLAND PLANNED

By the Associated Press
GENEVA, Switz., Dec. 23.—Preparations for a great Bolshevik offensive against Poland next spring are being planned by Leonine, Soviet Minister of War and Marine of Russia, according to a Warsaw dispatch received by the Ukrainian news bureau here. Chinese troops who are being recruited at the rate of 8,000 a day and trained in the soviet military school, will aid in the campaign, it is said. It is declared that Trotsky intends to use Chinese troops in carrying out his project of an invasion of Western Europe.

EXPORTS EXCEED IMPORTS IN ALL AMERICAN PORTS

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—An explanation of the deportation of two hundred and forty-nine radicals on the steamer, Buford, was cabled by the state department to various capitols today. The message said precaution had been taken to "request for them safe conduct and humane treatment at the hands of authorities under whose jurisdiction they will pass enroute to Soviet Russia."

The Navajo Indians never enter a house where one of their tribe has died.

BIG SALE AT THE HORSESHOE RANCH

COL. J. W. DAVIS HOLDS AUCTION SALE LAST FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT STATES LARGEST RANCH

Last Friday and Saturday witnessed the dismantling of the famous Horseshoe Ranch, in the extreme southwest part of the county, when Col. J. W. Davis, auctioneer of this city, conducted a two day sale of furniture, fixtures, tools, machinery, live stock etc.

For the past several years the property, embracing at the present time over ten thousand acres, has belonged to Judge George W. Armstrong and his associates of Fort Worth, Texas. A short time ago the ranch was sold to P. A. Norris, of this city, which accounts for the fact that the present owners are closing out their personal effects on the ranch.

This is the largest ranch yet intact in the state if not in the entire southwest, and when the present owner divides it into small farms, as he probably will do in the near future, the transaction will mark the passing of the old order as it was in the early pioneer days.

While the weather was not conducive to a good sale either Friday or Saturday, several thousand dollars worth of property was disposed of. Mr. Y. Q. McCammon, manager of the ranch, is of the opinion that he can dispose of the rest of the live stock and personal effects at private sale.

The editor of the News accompanied Col. Davis to the ranch and remained for the full two days, the guest of the McCammons, and we cannot refrain from deviating from the stereotyped form of the news narrative long enough to say that in all our experience we were never more royally entertained than while the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Y. Q. McCammon at Horseshoe Ranch.

London Coming to America to Learn Telephone Problem

By the Associated Press
LIMA, Ohio, Dec. 23.—London, England, is coming to the United States to have its telephone problems solved. London's phone service has been notorious and leading newspapers have been conducting agitation for a change for some time.

A commission of British telephone experts recently visited Lima, Ohio, to inspect a unique system installed there. Cleveland, Ohio, also sent a delegation and is considering adopting the same system, known as the "auto-manual."

It is neither manual, as the old system generally in use, nor is it entirely automatic, but combines, it is claimed, the advantages of both types and eliminates their disadvantages.

Unlike the automatic system, switchboard operators are employed but the old fashioned switchboard, with its plugs and cords, is eliminated.

Instead each girl sits at an individual desk, with three instruments resembling adding machines before her. The first column of the key-board is devoted to prefixes and the others to numerals.

When a call is received an automatic "distributor" starts it finds the line of desks until it finds a girl who is not busy. If one who has been passed clears her desk the call jumps back to her.

After she has punched the proper key the further processes of the call become automatic. An automatic ringer notifies the subscriber that his number is being rung, or if the line is busy an automatic "busy signal" informs him of the fact.

The system is said to furnish an average of fifteen second service, while individual operators handle as many as three times the calls taken care of under the old system.

FRENCH ABANDON HOPE OF EARLY PEACE TERMS

By the Associated Press
PARIS, Dec. 23.—Exchange of ratification of the German peace treaty before the end of the year is considered impossible in French official circles. This opinion was formed today when the head of the delegation here announced that he would be obliged to return to Berlin to consult with the government on the latest allied communication.

WOMEN SCRAMBLE TO HEAR NEW TRIAL

JUDGE CRAIG ADVISES MOTHERS TO KEEP DAUGHTERS OF SCHOOL AGE AWAY FROM TRIAL

By the Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 23.—Reading of depositions chiefly of residents of Indianapolis and Oklahoma City were expected to be resumed today by the defense at the trial of Harry New, charged with the murder of Miss Lesser, his sweetheart.

Depositions already offered on behalf of New, one by Mrs. Corder of Oklahoma City, who declared that he was known among his associates there as "Nuttie New."

Another who gave a deposition was Theodore Taylor, fellow member with New in Indiana, who said he believed the defendant was insane because he had a fondness for killing rattlesnakes when he did military duty on the Mexican border in 1916. Others state that he has brooded over the alleged circumstances of his birth.

Despite the advice of Judge Craig to mothers to keep their daughters of school age away from the trial, girls and women were predominant among hundreds seeking admittance to the court room.

Consorting Case Might Bust Up Happy Family

The only case in police court this morning was a consorting case, wherein a more or less prominent mere man was accused of consorting with a more or less well known woman. The woman in like manner was accused of consorting with the aforesaid mere man. The name of the woman is to this reporter unknown, while the name of the man is herewith suppressed because of a suggestion from hizzoner the mayor that the publication of the name might explode a large and violent quantity of marital dynamite in an otherwise peaceful and happy home.

Captain J. C. Cates, pioneer citizen and prominent in Confederate Veteran circles, is a staunch friend of the Evening News, and always remembers the force at Christmas time. Today he brought in a nice box of cigars and distributed the same among the boys of the force. The captain's head is now white with the frosts of many winters, but his heart is as mellow as that of a child, as is attested by the following note, which is addressed to the members of the News force on the occasion of this happy Yuletide:

To the News Force:
I want to congratulate you and thank you for your good paper and wish you a merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year, and when you lie down to pleasant dreams, may those dreams be as sweet and gentle as the sunlight that leaves the hills at the end of a perfect day. As ever your friend,

ATLANTA MAN SAYS HE'S DIFFERENT NOW

WHITTINGTON SAYS TANLAC HAS MADE A NEW MAN OF HIM SINCE TAKING IT.

"Tanlac restored me to health and strength after ten years of suffering, when all other medicines and treatments failed to do me any good," said R. L. Whittington, Stationary engineer at the S. A. L. shops and who lives at 329 West Fourth street, Atlanta, Ga.

"For ten years," he continued, "I had an awful case of indigestion and suffered from a sluggish liver. My food did not digest, I was often nauseated and would feel so dizzy that I could hardly keep on my feet. I lost weight and was getting worse all the time and became so nervous that I could hardly sleep. My disposition changed and I became grouchy and ill-natured and didn't want to talk to anybody."

"Since taking Tanlac I have been entirely relieved of indigestion, eat anything I want and never have any trouble afterwards. My nerves are quiet, I sleep like a log and have no more of that dizzy feeling. My liver is in good shape and I feel so fine now that thousands of dollars couldn't pay me to be in the same condition I was in all those years before I started taking Tanlac."

All druggists sell Tanlac.

BROKEN BLOSSOMS CRITICISM.
He has far exceeded the power of the written word. It would be impossible for the greatest master of language to picture the emotions as Griffith has perpetuated them (New York Call).

Not a movie melodrama with an unhappy ending, but a sincere human tragedy, that is what Mr. Griffith has had the capacity and courage to produce. All his mastery of picture-making, the technique that is pre-eminently his by invention and control, the skill and subtlety with which he can unfold a story, has gone into the making of "Broken Blossoms." It is a masterpiece in moving pictures (Times).

THE PLAYING—
Miss Lillian Gish, as the Girl, is so sweet and charming, and withal so touching that the presentation actually moved spectators to tears (Evening Telegram). Her work is so tender, so convincing that there comes a time when you just can't watch her any longer (Tribune). "Broken Blossoms" reveals Lillian Gish as a tragedienne of extraordinary ability (N. Y. Commercial). She is something more than a wistful and appealing heroine; she has caught the essence of the heroine's soul and made it live (Evening Mail). As the frightened sensitive child she made a rare ivory cameo of her part (Sun).

Never has Miss Gish been more appealing. She is all-child and exquisite in her tragic appeal. (American). She gives a performance so finished and so appealing and pitiful it will be recorded among the remembered characterizations in this uncertain art of the spoken drama (Morning Telegraph).

Repeatedly in varying roles, she has proven her superior talent as a screen actress, but never before has she been so human and at the same time accomplished. The role is so difficult as to be beyond the reach of almost any actress whose name comes to mind, but it was within Miss Gish's grasp (Times). She wins new honors (Evening Sun). As the girl—timid, forlorn, a fantastic little creature—she contributes much to "Broken Blossoms" (Evening Post).

Richard Barthelmess makes a very convincing and appealing Chinese hero (Evening Sun). There is good pantomime in his impersonation (World). A sensitive, convincing yellow man (Times).

Sewer taxes are past due and should be paid at the County Treasurer's office before January 1st. 12-23-71.

NOT A RAILROAD IN THIS TEXAS COUNTY

By the Associated Press
AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 23.—Zapata County, Texas, where the most recent raid of Mexican bandits was reported, is a wilderness of low sandy hills, overgrown with cactus and mesquite. No railroad enters the county; there are four little towns, of which the largest are Zapata, county seat, which boasts a 2-story courthouse, and San Ygnacio, a sleepy Mexican village, where they still haul water from the Rio Grande in burro carts for the town's use.

To reach these outpost villages the visitor travels by an incredibly bad road from Laredo. For fifteen miles he passes scattered onion fields, irrigated to a degree of fertility; then for fifty miles he winds among thorn-strewn hills, passing now and again little isolated ranches, built like forts, where the Mexican inhabitants peer at strangers suspiciously, and try to decide whether they will return later to steal their goats.

A military telephone line straggles along the road, on poles not much bigger than rake handles.

The inhabitants, who ranch in a desultory way, and farm even more casually, still use ox carts in many parts of the county. Custom guards patrol the river front and watch the fords of the Rio Grande. It was one of these, a half-bred Mexican named Chamberlain, an excellent rifle shot, who helped the cavalry beat off the bandits at San Ygnacio in 1916.

Racially and geographically the country seems far more like Mexico than it does like the United States. There are small detachments of American soldiers here and there along the river, whose principal amusement, when they are not chasing bandits, is hunting small deer and quail which abound in the country. All along the river there are innumerable deep-washed arroyos, overgrown with mesquite—ideal country in which to hide, and almost impossible for pursuit.

HE DID NOT KNOW

He did not know that he was dead; He walked along the crowded street. Smiled, tipped his hat, nodded his head To his friends he chanced to meet.

And yet they passed him quietly by With an unknowing, level stare; They met him with an abstract eye As if he were the air.

"Some sorry thing has come to pass" The dead man thought; he hurried home, And found his wife before her glass, Dallying with a comb.

He found his wife all dressed in black; He kissed her mouth, he stroked her head. "Men act so strange since I've come back From over there," he said.

She spoke no word; she only smiled. But no one heard her say his name, And saw her study, grief-beguiled, His picture in a frame.

Then he remembered that black night And the great shell-burst, wide and red; The sudden plunging into light— And he knew that he was dead. —Harry Kemp in Century.

Many Bodies Still Unidentified From Corpus Christi Flood

By the Associated Press
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Dec. 23.—One hundred and twenty-one bodies that were recovered from the waters of Nueces bay after the September hurricane here still remain unidentified. The identification bureau is making every effort to identify them, and a few bodies are added each week to the list of known dead.

The bodies of unknown dead are buried at Rose Hill cemetery here. Accurate descriptions, part of clothing and other possessions and, in some cases, photographs are on file at the bureau to assist in identification work. There also are twenty-nine names of persons reported missing of whom the bureau has no trace.

MEXICAN WOMEN GETTING READY TO ENTER POLITICS

By the Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 22.—Mexican women are preparing to take a hand in the affairs of the Mexican republic. They intend first to eliminate social and industrial evils and later to make a fight for political equality. This is the program of the Mexican Feminist Council, a national organization with headquarters in Mexico City.

The Council does not believe that the mass of Mexican women are at present prepared for complete suffrage but the Council hopes eventually to make them a vital political force. The present Mexican government looks with favor upon their efforts, according to Senorita Elena Torres, general secretary of the Council. Heads of the government, she said, advocate "complete emancipation of Mexican woman."

The Feminist Council has organized groups to teach Mexican women how their conditions may be improved industrially and socially. The next step, said Senorita Torres, will be organization of women workers in industry to demand fair and equal treatment at the hands of their employers. They will not countenance any bitter sex war which has characterized the feminist movement in some European countries, but expect cooperation from the men. The Council intends to bring the Mexican women's movement in contact with similar organizations in other countries and to work with the women of the world for peace, disarmament and anti-imperialism.

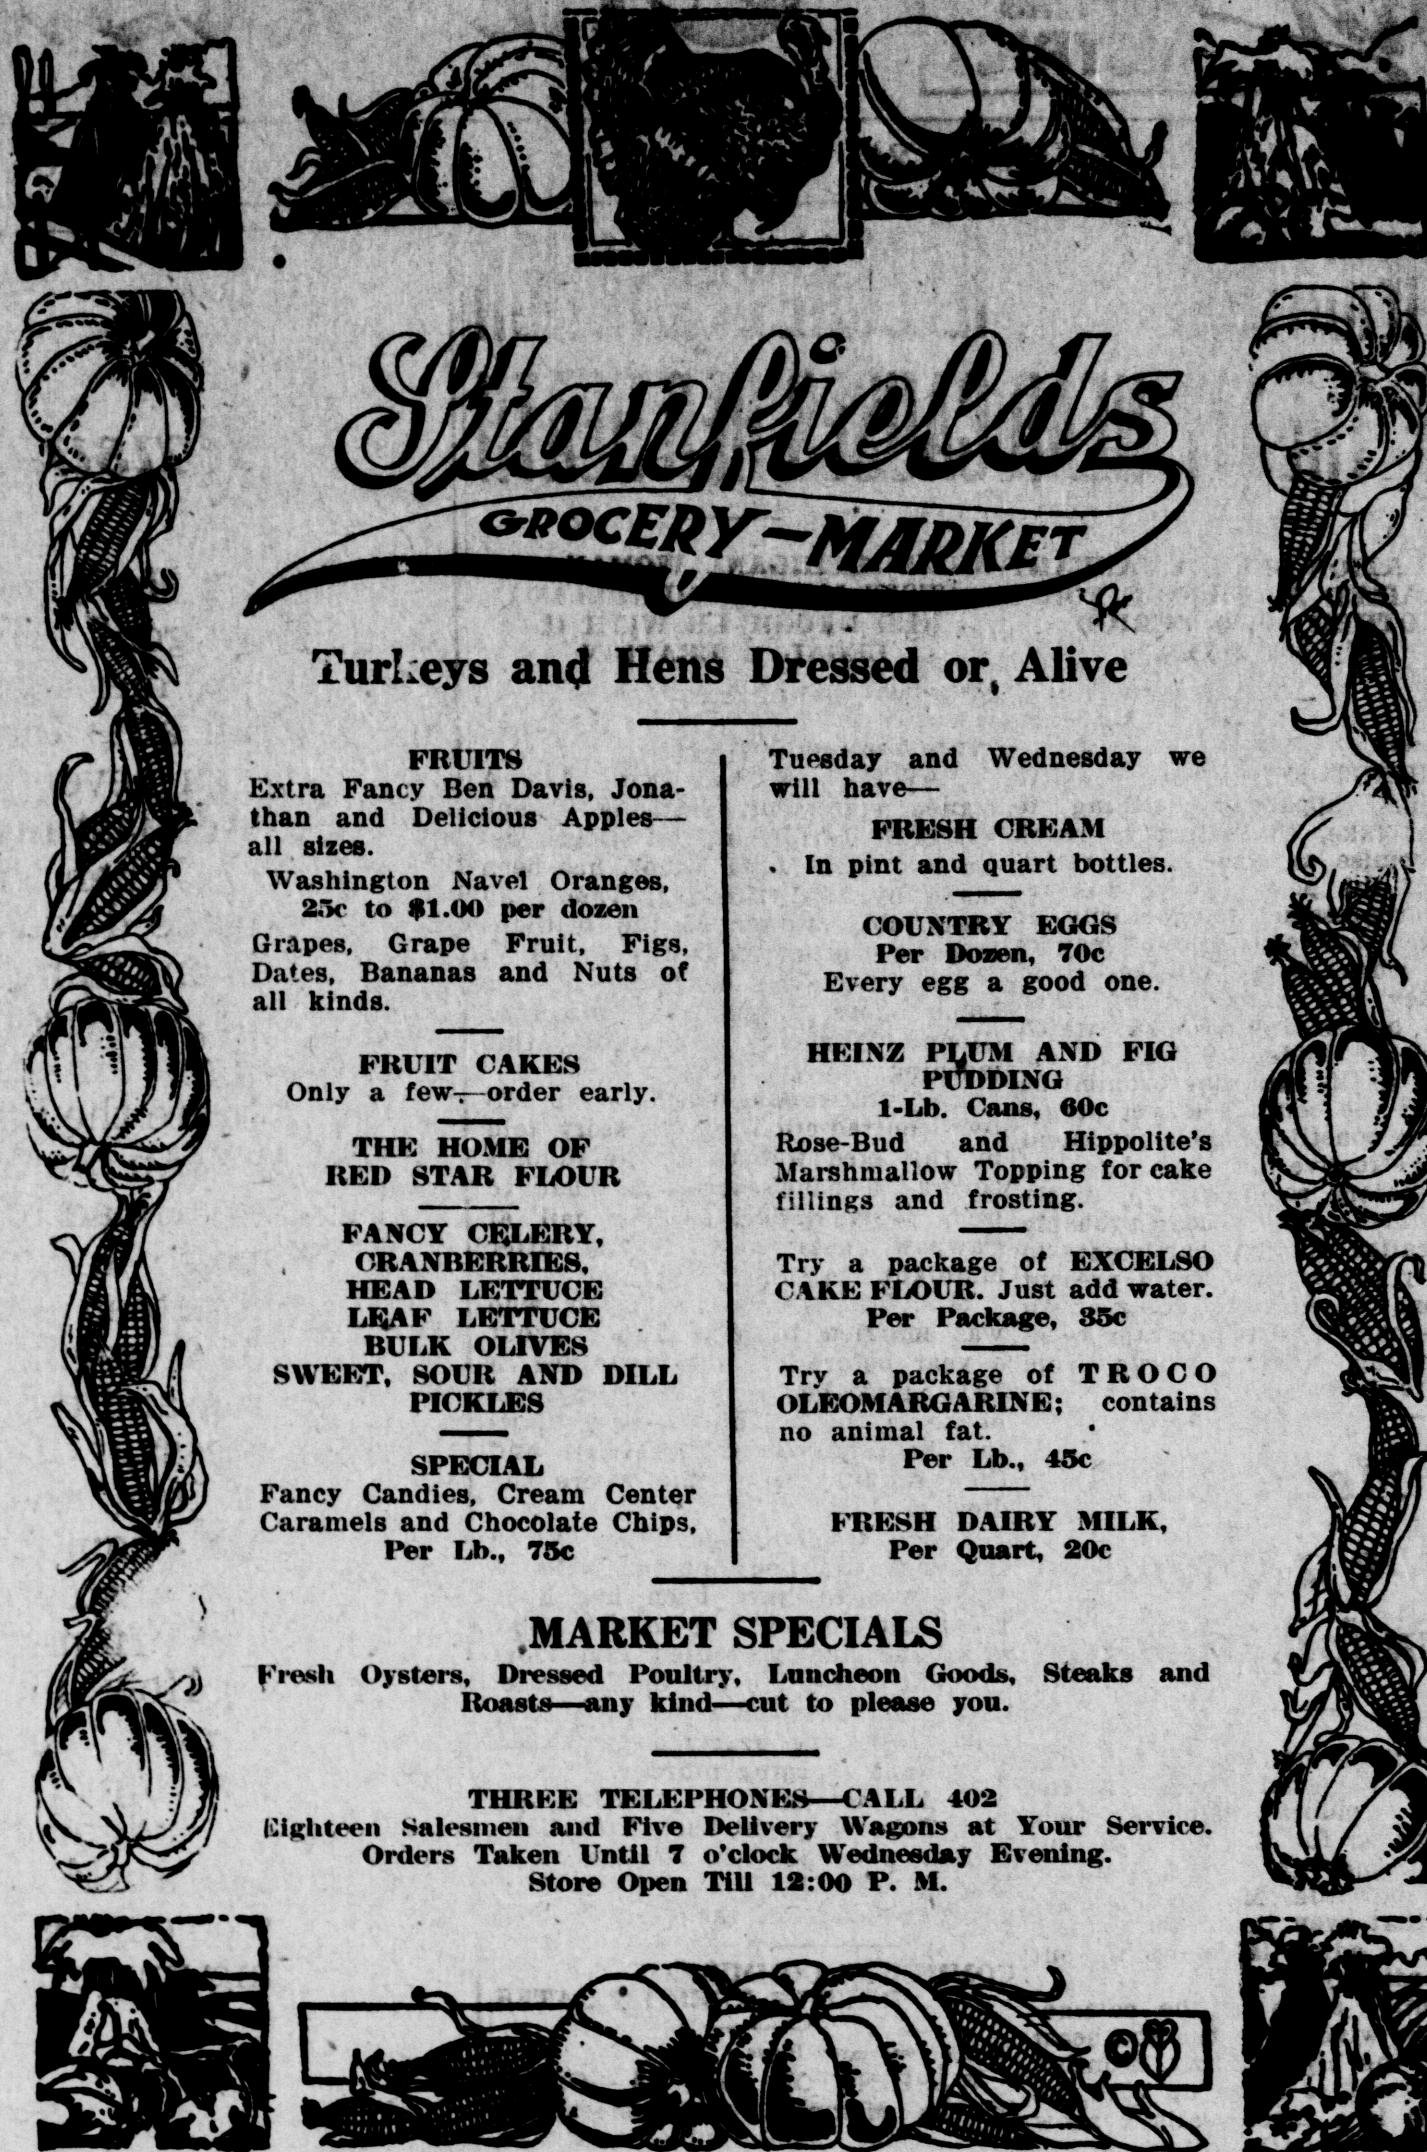

Senorita Torres predicts that Mexican women will create a new era of amicable relations and a more complete understanding between Mexico and the United States. Later, she said, the Feminist Council intends to propose the formation of a Latin-American union to bring about a friendship, culturally, industrially and politically between Mexico and the countries of South and Central America.

I HAPPENED to be.
 WAITING FOR a friend.
 TO COME in on the train.
 FROM DALLAS.

 AND I didn't see him.
 AND WAS standing there.
 LOOKING AROUND.
 AND WONDERING.
 WHAT HAD become of him
 AND IF he had missed the train.
 AND SOMEBODY came up.
 FROM BEHIND me.
 AND SLAPPED me on the back.
 AND REACHED for my hand.
 AND PUMPED my arm.
 AND HE was a rather old man.
 AND PROSPEROUS looking.
 AND SMOKED a cigar.
 AND HE said.
 THAT HE was awfully glad.
 TO SEE me again.
 AND HOW had I been.
 AND HOW was my wife.
 AND ALL the children.
 AND WAS business good?
 AND A whole lot.
 OF OTHER questions.

 ON MY arm.
 AND I wished.
 THAT HE wouldn't do it.

"General of No Retreat"
 New York Herald: Lieutenant General Robert Lee Bullard, who has succeeded Major General Thomas H. Barry as the commander of the Department of the East, with headquarters on Governor's Island, is called "The General of No Retreat." In his citation of an American unit which captured Fay's Wood on the Meuse River, General Bullard ended it with "You are there; stay there!" This phrase became famous throughout the American Expeditionary Forces.

When, on July 15, 1918, General Bullard left a conference of French Generals under whom he was operating he expressed regret that he could not obey orders to fall back. In explanation of his conduct, the General said: "The American flag has been forced to retire. This is intolerable." he launched a counter-attack by the Americans in this second battle of the Marne which proved to be the turning point of the war and enabled Marshal Foch to wrest the initiative from Ludendorff and Hindenburg. For his "disobedience" he was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant General.

Son of a Confederate private soldier of fighting blood, a friend of John J. Pershing at West Point, seasoned by gallant conduct in Mexico and made an international hero in the great war, General Bullard comes to his new post of responsibility with the love and respect of his countrymen.

"FAIR AND WARMER"
 ON SCREEN, COMING
 May Allison's First Screen Classics
 Special Film Version of Famous
 Hopwood Stage Farce

Coming next Thursday to the American Theatre is May Allison in one of her new Screen Classics, Inc. Specials, "Fair and Warmer," the Selwyn and Co. success, by Avery Hopwood. The picture is an adaptation of one of the most successful farces ever presented on the American stage. Its run in New York for two years, and elsewhere for fully as long; its extended vogue in London pronounce it that.

The advent of Miss Allison, easily one of the most captivating of motion picture comediennees, in a new picture is event enough; but in so celebrated a piece as "Fair and Warmer" those who follow the screen here will be given an exceptional treat.

The story concerns the tribulations of two young married couples. In one case the young wife complains that her husband, Billy, is so perfect that he is dull; and in the other case the young husband, though he adores his wife, employs just the tactics Billy should take advantage of—he goes out of his way to keep his wife guessing. And when circumstances cast together Billy and the apparently neglected Blanny, the result is one of the most absurdly funny series of situations ever contrived, even by Ma Hopwood, who is admittedly the premier farce writer today in America.

The screen production has been done elaborately, and in some instances the original play has been given additional punch through the employment of means at the command of the screen producer but impossible on the stage. The entire production was done under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger, director general of Screen Classics, Inc., and the exceptionally able cast selected by him. Thus such well known artists as Pell Trenton, Eugene Pallette, Christine Mayo, William Buckley and Effie Conley, Henry Otto directed the production, which was adapted from the stage success by June Mathis and A. P. Younger.

Complaint Against Ice Company To Be Heard Jan. 6

The hearing of County Attorney Wayne Wadlington vs. the Southern Ice & Utilities Company will be resumed before the Corporation Commission in Oklahoma City on January 6, according to information reaching the interested parties in Ada. This hearing was begun at Ada last September, but was suspended for the time being in order to give the commission time to have some auditing done.

The original complaint against the ice company was filed by the county attorney on behalf of certain citizens of Ada and alleged short weights and unsatisfactory service. The hearing in Ada was before Commissioner R. E. Echols and a large number of witnesses were heard. The company is represented by J. F. McKeel of Ada and Hill & Hill of McAlester. It is probable that a number of witnesses from Ada will attend the hearing in Oklahoma City.

AN ENIGMA HARD TO UNDERSTAND

AMERICA, WORLD'S BANKER, IN SAME POSITION ENGLAND WAS AFTER NAPOLEONIC AND AMERICAN WARS

By the Associated Press
 NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Three factors in the demoralization of foreign exchange, intelligible to the average man, rise above the complexities of the present situation, according to old-timers in Wall street.

These are: (1)—Allied and other nations of the world owe the United States approximately $15,000,000,000; (2)—American manufacturers hesitate, owing to peace treaty uncertainty, to accept big advance foreign orders; (3)—England's virtual suspension of gold exports outside the British colonies is repulsing American trade.

"Just why the British pound sterling, normally worth $4.8665 in American gold, should have declined so much since the war ended, and what it all means is an obscure question," said a New York financial expert. "The present situation, Sir George Paish's apprehensions notwithstanding, is by no means hopeless. Prophecies of a break-down of credit are not well founded.

"America, the storehouse of the world and now the world's banker, is in the same position England was in after the Napoleonic and American Civil wars. She bought the cheap securities of impoverished nations in a most prodigious manner and thereby laid the foundation for her future wealth. We must do likewise and do it within the next two or three years by which time these abnormal conditions will have passed.

"With pond sterling 25 percent or more below par England can sell to the United States at a great disadvantage because we must add the abnormal rate of exchange to the goods to get into foreign markets.

Premier Lloyd George recently declared, when sterling was selling at a discount of 15 percent, that the discount really represented a 'protective tariff' of 15 percent on goods manufactured in England. Certainly it is helping to keep American goods out of that country.

"The only remedy for this condition is for the United States to buy foreign securities and extend long time credit for merchandise. We are in a strong economic position. The nations of Europe must have our cotton and wheat and, since they are so heavily indebted to us and we must extend them many more millions to put them on their feet what is the difference whether we buy their bonds or send them our merchandise?

Everyone in Wall street knows that if the Peace Treaty had been signed in Washington an International Exchange Committee would have been organized long before now to stabilize exchange and bring about other necessary readjustments. Never during the darkest days of the war when the Germans were almost at Paris, did British and French exchange go to where it is now. The British, during the war, by a system of credits with the United States, had sterling 'pegged' to $4.52.

"The tension over and gold exports curtailed there was nothing to keep it that close to parity. Indeed, unless the United States loosens its purse strings there are London financial experts who say the pound sterling will drop as low as $2.50. That would be a calamity. It would be a two-edged sword injuring both England and the United States.

"Europe is like a man on the verge of starvation. When you find such an unfortunate you feed him gradually until the stomach becomes accustomed to digesting food. Now our aim has been all along to 'stuff' Europe with all kinds of American products. We have piled up a trade balance, according to former Secretary of Commerce Redfield, aggregating $4,000,000,000 a year. Europe's financial system, like the starved human stomach, has been unable to assimilate it. Consequently, we thus contribute to the demoralization of foreign exchange and, incidentally, by inflation help to lower the purchasing power of our own dollar.

"When you consider, as Mr. Red-

SUSPENDING NATURE'S LAWS

The mayor of Ada calls attention to the fact that the first day of the week, popularly known as Sunday, has become an ordinary work day among a good many people of this city. He says that it has become almost common for certain people to save up a number of extra jobs for Sunday and to spend that day in work that could well be done on any other day of the week. Even contractors on public works have been taking advantage of the extra labor supply of Sunday and have been making that day a kind of special day to get work done. The mayor says that this kind of law violation has gone far enough and must be stopped, even if some leading citizen is stood up behind barred windows and left to contemplate the scenery through the peep holes of the city jail.

It may be possible for the offender to escape the rough hands of statutory law and to avoid the penalty of breaking a moral law for an indefinite season, but there is a physiological law that cannot be broken with any degree of safety. The law providing a day of rest among each seven days has not been written on a table of stone only or on the statute books of a state only. That law has been written in the bone and sinew of the human family. It was long ago ascertained that both men and beasts wear out more quickly when denied a day of rest among each seven. When the revolutionary government of France substituted the tenth day for the seventh as a day of rest it was soon discovered that even the work animals broke down more quickly and were sooner ready for the bone-yard.

The human frame is a bank deposit not subject to drafts forever. The faster checks are written the sooner an account will be exhausted. By working on Sunday one is simply consuming nervous and muscular force that will be needed sorely farther down the line, and when needed will be gone. By working an extra day a stale body and poor work are insured for all other days. It is not possible to repeal the laws of nature, and one day's rest in seven is a law of nature.

The deportation of anarchists may be all right if there is no other way to deal with the varmints, but it would seem as if a better plan would be to try them for their offenses and punish them for their crimes. It might be well to deport bootleggers from Oklahoma to Colorado or horse thieves from Texas to Ohio, but we have never heard anyone advocate such procedure. If the anarchists are criminals, we believe they should be tried according to criminal laws. If half that has been said of the reds deported last Sunday is true, they should have long since faced a firing squad, to say nothing of their receiving new clothes and new overcoats from the government and a free trip to that nation which all of them declare is the best on earth. Deportation looks like a joke and will probably prove to be a joke. But hanging a man to a black jack limb or shooting him full of lead never has been anything like a joke to the recipient of such treatment. If undesirables are to be deported, it should be to a lonely island of the sea where never again would they have the opportunity of preaching their thin-water doctrines.

All the enemies that organized labor ever had cannot possibly do that cause one-half the injury it received when a half dozen of its own leaders met in Chicago the first of the week and denounced the deportation of a ship-load of anarchists. The only inference one can possibly draw from their fulminations is that they sympathized with the doctrines and practices of the deported reds. Time and again the most thoughtful of Americans have told Union Labor that its greatest enemy is the agitator with his own ranks who seeks to bolshevise the order. For nearly two years it has been becoming more apparent that Union Labor must purge itself of its radical element or find itself opposed by an entire nation. When a half dozen radicals express sympathy for the most criminal class that ever cursed America it is high time for the millions of sane and patriotic workingmen throughout the country to pray: "Lord, deliver us from our fool friends."

The assistant attorney general of the United States, a young sprout of law named Frierson, said in a talk at Oklahoma City Friday, that the best way to beat the living problem is to buy less. Perhaps so, Mr. Frierson. But tell us, please, what is the salaried man or wage earner to do who is now able to buy only just enough bread and meat to live on? Shall he buy less bread and meat? Or shall he?

"UNGUARDED GATES"

(The following poem was written by Thomas Bailey Aldrich more than forty years ago.)

Here it is written, Toil shall have its wage,
And Honor, honor, and the humblest man
Stand level with the highest in the law.
Of such a land have men in dungeons dreamed,
And with the vision brightening in their eyes
Gone smiling to the fagot and the sword.

Wide open and unguarded stand our gates,
And through them press a wild, motley throng—
Men from the Volga and the Tartar Steppes,
Featureless figures of the Hoang-Ho,
Malayan, Sorthian, Teuton, Kelt, and Slav,
Flying the old world's poverty and scorn;
These bring with them unknown gods and rites,
Those tiger passions, here to stretch their claws.
In street and alley what strange tongues are loud
Accents of menace alien to our air,
Voices that once the tower of Babel knew!
O Liberty, white goddess! Is it well
To leave the gates unguarded? On thy breast
Fold Sorrow's children, soothe the hurts of fate,
Lift the down-trodden, but with hands of steel
Stay those who to thy sacred portals come
To waste the gifts of freedom. Have a care
Lest from thy brows the clustered stars be torn
And trampled in the dust. For so of old
The thronged Goth and Vandal trampled Rome.
And where the temples of the Caesars stood
The lean wolf unmolested made her lair.

A Fine Christmas Gift.

The Teacher Training Class that meets at the Christian Church each Monday evening, surprised their instructor, C. V. Dunn, with a fine Christmas gift in the form of a hat. It is a dandy. Mr. Dunn, in his embarrassment, was endeavoring to make a speech in recognition of the class' kindness, when L. T. Walters, a member of the class, who had presented the hat to Mr. Dunn, presented to the class a fine box of chocolates. Mr. Dunn put his hat on, and then took it off, remarking, "I take my hat off to this class."

Throughout the evening the class gave physical evidence of enjoying the chocolates, and thus the evening was spent happily, in spite of the test the class was taking. Mr. Dunn desires to express publicly his high appreciation of this Teacher Training Class.

PONTOTOC COUNTY GOOD ROADS ASSN. TO MEET ON JAN. 6

A meeting of the Pontotoc County Good Roads Association will be held Tuesday, January 6th, at 1 o'clock P. M., sharp, at the Court House at Ada, and all good roads enthusiasts of Pontotoc county, farmers, laboring men, business men and professional men, are earnestly requested to be present, as business of much importance will be transacted at this meeting.

The war is now over and we must get busy and make sure that some of the main roads running through Oklahoma passes through Pontotoc county, and with a united effort of all the citizens of our county we can get one of the proposed roads without cost to us.

Our government is now looking for a first-class postal route, they want such a route from Kansas City across Oklahoma into Texas, the proposed Oil Cities Highway Route, I am informed, is just what the government wants, and we in Pontotoc county must get together and secure the proposed Oil Cities Highway Route. We can do it without cost to us.

Everybody remember the date and come to Ada.—Dr. L. M. Overton, President Pontotoc County Good Roads Association. 12-11-3tw

Birds and Flowers... It has been estimated that there are 4,000 varieties of wild flowers growing in the Rocky Mountain National park and more than 1,000 species of birds building their homes in the firs, aspens, spruces and willows of that section. Even the tiny humming bird and the forget-me-nots find life easy on the summit of Pike's peak. Some of the other flowers are the fringed gentiana, columbine, buttercup and delicate pink.

"L. OF J." Hike.

Yesterday the "L. of J." boys enjoyed a good hike. They met at the Christian Church at two o'clock, and left at twenty minutes till three. There were twenty-two in the crowd. Each boy had his lunch Wieners were bought for all out of the treasury of the organization.

After salute and prayer they started out in great glee. They went out to the big trestle where a fire was built, and the wieners roasted. All had an enjoyable time eating their lunch. Soon after this they started on the return trip. Near the brick plant they had a great time sliding down the steep declivity there. Some very graceful curves were made. Many of the boys proved to be excellent contortionists.

About five thirty all arrived at the church, where some others had come who could not go on the hike. Here some nice refreshments awaited the boys. They consisted of popcorn, cocoa, and crackers. These had been prepared by Mrs. O. E. Parker, Mrs. C. V. Dunn, and Francis Walters. Seated in a ring the boys devoured the refreshments with evident relish. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Perkins, whose boys, Carl and Paul, are members of the "L of J." were guests.

To close the afternoon's enjoyment, their leader, C. V. Dunn spoke to them briefly about the place where Jesus was born, showing that it was in Bethlehem Inn, in the portion where the beasts were kept. He told them also, about "The Story of the Other Wise Man." This story by Van Dyke shows that he who helps his fellow men when in distress, beholds his Lord and King most truly. Mr. Dunn then encouraged the boys to try to make others happy at the Christmas or Yule-tide, season.

After a closing prayer, the boys departed to their homes, having spent a very happy afternoon.

SANTA CLAUS VISITS A NEEDY FAMILY

Santa Claus was busy today at local headquarters of the Red Cross and twenty-eight families in Ada will have a merrier Christmas because of his activities.

A well-filled Christmas box was sent to each of the twenty-eight needy families to remind them that this is the Christmas season and religion pure and undefiled is still alive. Each box contained a chicken, coffee, spuds, potatoes, butter, milk, crackers, cranberries, lard, celery, roast, bread, sugar, apples, oranges, candy and pickles. The value of each box was $8.50.

These boxes were filled and sent out by the United Charities and were paid for with money subscribed by the generous citizens of Ada for charitable purposes. The only outside donation to the boxes was a large bucket of candy sent in by Mrs. Land.

Mrs. Sneed of the Red Cross and Rev. S. B. Darnon have been busy all day collecting the material to fill the boxes and sending them out to the recipients. Thus Christmas is made a day of real rejoicing to families that otherwise would have little reason for rejoicing.

PAY DAY IS COME FOR GERMAN THIEVES

By the Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The Mexican people's lack of a spirit of protest and the absence of public unification in the face of reported imminence of armed intervention is a phenomenon never before encountered in Mexico's history, according to an account of an interview given to representatives of the capital city press by Luis Cabrera, secretary of the treasury, as printed by the Excelsior.

The secretary blamed the press for this seeming lack of patriotism, but agreed in response to the interviewer's suggestions, that the silence of the foreign office in regard to international questions might be the cause for the Mexican papers' failure to give this country's attitude sufficient publicity.

LIQUOR CONTROL IS HELPING ENGLAND

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Eng., Sept. 18.—Lord D'Abercorn, head of the Liquor Control Board, in a speech at Carlisle vindicates the government's policy with respect to intoxicants, declared that there had been a great decrease in drunkenness due to state control.

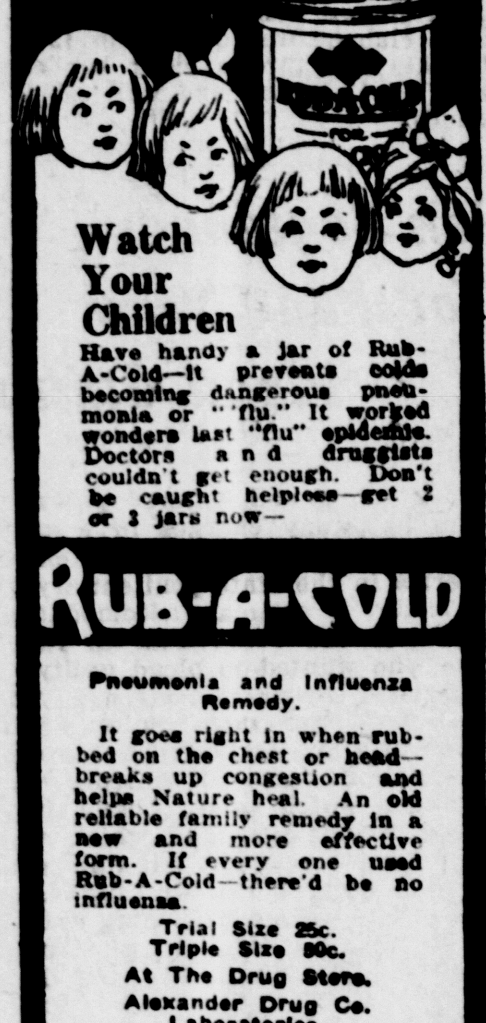

The work of the board, he said, had vindicated the school of moderation and of reasonable and scientific control. He claimed that the Control Board "had put an end to the appalling condition of drunkenness and inefficiency which existed in 1915 and which paralyzed the war efficiency of the country."

Sherwood Magee was born at Clarendon, Pa., August 6, 1884. He started at Allentown in 1903. Obtained by Phillies the following season. He played left field for Philadelphia for eleven years. ## MEXICANS DISPLAY Indifference to Armed Invasion

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Sept. 30.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Announcement of the government's import policy, by which it is possible for American automobile manufacturers to once more operate in the British market, has aroused English manufacturers to what they term a "sense of their danger," with the probability that the Society of British Motor Manufacturers will make representations to the government.

"If imports are unrestricted," said Mr. McCormick, one of the leading members of the society, "there is grave danger of the British market being flooded next season, and the efforts of British manufacturers toward mass production will be frustrated. Thousands of people who might have found employment in the motor industry will thus be idle, and British manufacturers will be compelled to revert to the pre-war practice of limited production and consequent high costs. It was American legislation that built up the American trade. Why can't British legislation build up the trade here?"

One motor car company announced it would retaliate by selling cars in the United States. It believes there is a good market there for high-grade English cars, that shipping facilities will soon be available and that it will then be practicable to "carry the war into the enemy's country."

Makers of smaller and cheaper cars will have a more awkward position to face, for failing government protection, they must bear the brunt of the enemy onslaught.

Schooldren--Did You Ever See the Word in Print

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Sept. 23.—A London news agency which transmits its dispatches on ticker tapes dropped out several letters in sending the words "school children" in a news item recently. The two words were abbreviated to "schooldren." Newspaper headline writers, always vigilant for newly coined words, have seized upon "schooldren" and it may now be seen frequently in the London press.

BRITISH ALARMED BY AMERICAN AUTO

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Sept. 30.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Announcement of the government's import policy, by which it is possible for American automobile manufacturers to once more operate in the British market, has aroused English manufacturers to what they term a "sense of their danger," with the probability that the Society of British Motor Manufacturers will make representations to the government.

"If imports are unrestricted," said Mr. McCormick, one of the leading members of the society, "there is grave danger of the British market being flooded next season, and the efforts of British manufacturers toward mass production will be frustrated. Thousands of people who might have found employment in the motor industry will thus be idle, and British manufacturers will be compelled to revert to the pre-war practice of limited production and consequent high costs. It was American legislation that built up the American trade. Why can't British legislation build up the trade here?"

One motor car company announced it would retaliate by selling cars in the United States. It believes there is a good market there for high-grade English cars, that shipping facilities will soon be available and that it will then be practicable to "carry the war into the enemy's country."

Makers of smaller and cheaper cars will have a more awkward position to face, for failing government protection, they must bear the brunt of the enemy onslaught.

Schooldren--Did You Ever See the Word in Print

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Sept. 23.—A London news agency which transmits its dispatches on ticker tapes dropped out several letters in sending the words "school children" in a news item recently. The two words were abbreviated to "schooldren." Newspaper headline writers, always vigilant for newly coined words, have seized upon "schooldren" and it may now be seen frequently in the London press.

NEW YORK SKYSCRAPERS ASTONISH PRINCE

Crown Prince Leopold of Belgium gazing at Woolworth building. Miss Hyman, New York mayor's daughter, is beside him in machine.

Crown Prince Leopold, eldest son of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, visiting the U. S. with his parents, is enjoying himself as much as any youth of eighteen on his first trip to a foreign land. The giant skyscrapers startled the prince as he gazed by them on his first trip through the heart of New York. The picture shows him "taking in" one of them.

The Town Gossip

I HAD to work last night.
AND STAYED down town.
UNTIL AFTER ten o'clock.
AND GOT through.
AND STARTED for home.
AND ALONG Main street.
I HEARD a little "meow."
KIND OF faint like.
AND THEN I heard it again.
AND AT first.
I COULDN'T tell.
WHERE IT came from.
AND THEN I happened to notice.
A LITTLE gray kitten.
WOBBLING ALONG.
ON ITS little legs.
AND LOOKING at me.
KIND OF plaintive like.
AND IT meowed again.
AND I was in a hurry.
AND TIRED too.
AND AFTER looking at it.
I KEPT on going.
AND AS I passed.
IT LOOKED real reproachful.
AND SAT down.
AND MEOWED again.

BUT I kept on going.
AND I looked back once.
AND IT was still sitting there.
LOOKING AFTER me.
AND FOR almost a block.
I COULD hear.
THAT WEAK "meow."
AND AS I got further away.
IT SOUNDED weaker and weaker.
UNTIL AT last.
I COULDN'T hear it any more.
AND SOMEHOW or other.
I HAVEN'T been able.
TO LOSE the sound.
OF THAT little cry.
AND I'M sorry.
THAT I didn't go back.
AND I'M hoping.
THAT THE next fellow.
WHO CAME along.
PICKED IT up.
AND TOOK it home.
AND GAVE it milk.
AND CRACKERS.
AND CUCUMBERS.
AND WHATEVER else.
LITTLE KITTENS like to eat.
I THANK YOU.

ADVERTISING

This is an advertisement. Not a very long one, to be sure, but an advertisement.

It has a most unusual purpose—to advertise advertising. The message is this:—

Don't miss the advertisements.

They make good reading just from the news and educational standpoint alone.

But more than that:—

Advertisements keep you in touch with the world's progress.

They point the path to comforts that were unknown in the old days.

They help you to save.

They protect you from fraud.

Don't miss the advertisements—they are the guideposts to better buying.

Drinks Hair Tonic, Shoots Up a Town, and Makes Escape

By the Associated Press
WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Dec. 23.—Bootleg liquor and intoxicating substitutes have amazing effects on the drinkers thereof, county officials stationed in the oil fields near here report.

A man recently drank a bottle of hair tonic in search of a kick, found it, and sallied forth with two guns to shoot up a town. After he had cleared a pool room and the streets and wounded two men, the authorities went after him. He threw away his guns and plunged into the icy cold Red river, and swam it, escaping into Oklahoma.

Men who drink flavoring extracts, hair tonics and similar substitutes invariably want to start a fight, the officials say. It is on record up to this time they have had no difficulty doing it. Fist fights are of nightly occurrence in the oil fields, and they often occur between "the best friends," the authorities declare.

"After an evening hour or so in pool halls, the men who drink these substitutes almost always get argumentative and wind up with a fight," said one official. "Bootleg whiskey and various substitutes are the cause of much lawlessness."

Senator Fall thinks he knows what will be done in the Mexican case. He says: "There will be nothing further done in the Jenkins case or any other case other than back wash our hands in inviolable water, roll our eyes upward and proclaim peace on earth, good will to bandits." The New Mexico senator is becoming a hard-boiled cynic.—Times World.

The Whole Secret of A Better Tire

Simply a Matter of the Maker's Policies

This you will realize—once you try a Brunswick—that a super-tire is possible only when the name certifies that the maker is following the highest standards.

For tire making is chiefly a matter of standards and policies—cost plus care. Any maker can build a good tire if he cares to pay perfection's price.

All men know Brunswick standards, for Brunswick products have been famous for 74 years.

Formulas, fabrics and standards vary vastly in cost. Reinforcements, plies and thickness are a matter of expense. And these variations affect endurance. It rests with the maker how far he wishes to go—how much he can afford to give.

For there are no secrets nor patents to hold one back.

Josh High Says

DEER ED.

Some folks say they are glad that xmas don't come but once a year but I don't think them folks means what they says Ed. Of course as far as they are personally concerned nobody wants to be gittin a red necktie or a box of bum cigars 365 days outta the yr and nobody wants a big monie layout what makes his bank acct look like the 1907 panik.

Its the spirit of the thing Ed that most folks has forgot. I tell em to dig up that old good book they has allowed so much dust to settle off that you could grow a war garden on its 5 by 8 cover and read where it says its is more blest to give than to take. Didn't you never neip nobody outta a tite place and see how grateful they was that you wasn't tikeled nigh to death to a done it.

why I recollect one time I help a man git his auto outta the mud. I was aworkin away to help him an forgot all about me and there I was a gittin all tired and dirty like and finally we got that there auto out and both of us was so glad we just laft rite there. And he says how much does I owe you mister, and I says nothin cause I went into that job not thinkin of reward an I jest pure down glad that I had help him and at the same time done well what I started to do. Whats the value of livin anyways Ed if you gonna be shut up to yourself and be selfish like and not help along nobody. You mite as well be at the bottom of the ocean along with the other dead things as for all the good you do. An one xmas Ed I knowed a man what laft a basket of goodies at the house of a pore family and he heid behind a tree off to 1 side to see how the kids an the mother would take it. Well those kids had a joy fit for it well all the xmas they would a got, and there mama, but Ed, tho those folks never knowed whe there sante claws was that man what done that had his reward in his own conscience for he felt plum good. Now jest because we loosen up some around xmas Ed aint no sign some folks eat or dress up jest onct in the yr. If these here folks what needs help needs it now they and some others will haft to have it all thru the yr. They jest can't eat one meel and dig in for the off season like a snake.

But what I started out to say Ed was that there is a campane started in this town to get money to spread xmas over the hole yr for those folks as needs it and I would shore like to see everybody jar lose and help to make ever day a joy day for them people as cant furnish it for themselves. Charitie is what makes this old world run smuth even if some of these here auto concerns does advertise as they are the onyone what can do it.

These is my sentiments Ed and hopin you are the same, I am yours trulee, Josh.

General Ludendorff's Motor Car on Duty In City of Chicago

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—General Ludendorff's general headquarters motor car with the same black body and sloping duck nose that carried the military head of the German armies over Belgian and French roads while its occupant was seeking to annihilate the Allies, can be seen almost any day on Chicago's streets and boulevards.

Bullet scarred and battered after traveling more than 60,000 miles as the equipage of the German commander the limousine has returned to peaceful pursuits and civilian service.

In the summer of 1914 C. L. Willey, a Chicago lumber merchant, with his wife was touring Germany in the motor car. The war flamed up and the automobile was seized by German officials despite its owners protests becoming the official property of Gen. Ludendorff.

Some where in its war activity the limousine was the target of well aimed machine gun fire from the Allied airmen and its roof was perforated in many places.

Through an American consul Mr. Willey brought about the return of the automobile. C. L. Willey died in 1916 and the car is now used daily by his son C. B. Willey.

Wedding Bells at Home of Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Faust

Fred Gay and Miss Betsey Faust were married at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Faust, 130 West Nineteenth Street, last evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. C. C. Morris, using a combination of several marriage ceremonies, making one impressive as to its solemnity and eternity, performed the ceremony.

By 7:30 the many friends of the young couple began to assemble in the home and observe the elaborate display of gifts which had been sent to the bride. The guests were received and ushered into the room where the gifts were displayed by Mesdames M. L. Lewis, J. B. Gilbreath and Ben McKinley. The presents consisted of cut glass, china, linens, fancy work, silver, gold eagles and many other useful and ornamental things for the home.

The house was decorated with ferns, smilax and yellow carnations. A bank of ferns formed the altar, and suspended over it was a large bell woven of smilax and roses. The dining room table was beautiful with a large vase of yellow carnations for a centerpiece, and yellow tulle intertwined with smilax suspended from the four corners to the chandelier above.

The color scheme of yellow and green was carried out in its entirety, the entire lower floor of the house being a mass of flowers.

The wedding march was played by Miss Vera Giles of Ardmore, a chum of the bride from early girlhood. Mrs. Byron Norrell gave an unusually touching interpretation to the song, "I Love You Truly."

With guests taking all available room in the house, the bridal party marched in to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Miss Emma Beach led the procession. She was dressed in green and wore a large corsage bouquet of roses. She was followed by Misses Lillian Faust and Pearl Gay, sisters of the bride and groom, respectively, dressed in charming yellow dresses as flower girls. They carried large baskets of yellow roses and ferns.

Mrs. W. D. Little, sister of the bride, came next as matron of honor. She wore a dress of green with satin combined with silk net, and carried a large bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Ruby Gay, dressed in yellow and wearing a corsage of yellow carnations, was followed by the bridegroom and his best man, W. D. Little. Immediately behind the matron of honor came the bride supported by her father, Dr. W. D. Faust. The bride was gorgeously gowned in white chiffon taffeta trimmed with sprays of orange blossoms. The long veil was fastened with a wreath of the same delicate flowers. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of bride's roses.

Waiting at the altar, the bridegroom received the woman of his choice from her father, and Rev. Morris pronounced the ceremony which made them one, using the ring in an original and most impressive manner.

After the ceremony the young couple were showered with congratulations and best wishes from their friends. Brick ice cream and cake were served by Misses Lottie Faust, Roberta Allen, Ida Gregg, Lenore McKendree and Dolly Gay.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay left immediately afterwards for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Little where they will keep house for a few days before going to Chickasha to make their home. They will be at home to their friends Wednesday at the Little home, 115 West Nineteenth.

Mrs. Gay has grown to womanhood in Ada, having moved here with her parents when she was a child. She has been one of the most popular among the young folk all this time, both in school and out. Her winning disposition and her intellectual grasp of all questions has made her a favorite with all. When the war came on and the call went out for more help in the governmental departments she took a course in stenography and assisted the fuel administration of the state in handling the fuel problems. For some time she has been teacher of the young girls' class at the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Gay has also been brought up in Ada and attended both the public schools and the Normal. He learned the electrical business and for several years was a successful manager of several wiring and fixture houses in West Texas. The war came on and he sacrificed his business to go to the army. He was put in the office at San Antonio and kept there until last spring when he was given his discharge. Coming back to Ada, he organized the Gay-Kirby Electric Company, which was sold a few weeks ago. He then purchased a large business in Chickasha where he will take his bride the last of this week.

This union is the ending of a courtship of many years. The young couple have been friends since they were in the lower grades of the city schools. There are few young folk in Ada who have as large a circle of friends, and few will be missed so sorely from social and church circles.
